Simmons Liver Regulator

AS A REMEDY IN

Kidney Affection

"My kidneys were so affected I have been compelled to get up as much as ten times in one night. I had pains in my side, back and left shoulder, and when down could hardly rise. I was unable to bend my body without great pain. I tried Simmons Liver Regulator, and my condition has improved so much that I hardly ever feel any of my old trouble, and then very slightly, and am satisfied that I shall be entirely cured. I would not take thousands of dollars for my improvement."

THE EAST.

Yale Scores an Easy Victory Over Harvard.

MISS CLEVELAND'S CHICAGO MOVE

Senator Pugh's Daughter Rescued from her Worthless and Cruel Husband—A Terribly Disastrous Explosion—Eastern Notes

NEW LONDON, July [illegible].—The eleventh annual series of four mile eight oared straightaway races inaugurated between Yale and Harvard in 1876 was rowed this evening on the Thames river course. Yale finished first in 20 minutes 41 seconds, beating Harvard by seven lengths. Interest in to-day's race was greater than in any previous one for the last eight years. Trains and steamers brought large crowds to witness the race, and there were hundreds of applications for seats on a long observation train of twenty-two cars which followed the crews from start to finish, who were refused accommodations, being unable to get them. The immense grand stand at the start was packed closely as were points of advantage along the bank. Craft of every description were anchored along the course as closely as possible, while scores of steamers and tugs followed the rowers. Betting was heavy.

The water at the appointed time (11:00) was so rough that a postponement was had to 6 o'clock. The Harvard and Yale boat officials then held a consultation and decided to start the race from Winthrop point and row up the river to Gales ferry instead of the usual way, so as to have all the benefit possible from the favorable tide.

At 6 P. M. the conditions for fast rowing were almost perfect. The water was almost smooth, the tide and what little wind there was being with the boats.

THE START.

At 6:3[illegible] the crews came [illegible] and after the referee had spent [illegible] getting them into line they were started off. [illegible] Yale started with thirty-five strokes and Harvard with thirty-six [illegible] the start [illegible] the Harvard crew being [illegible] Harvard [illegible] lead [illegible] in front. This advantage, however, was only [illegible] Yale drew up [illegible] the first quarter and slowly began to forge ahead. At this point Yale was rowing in excellent form [illegible] a long, even stroke. Harvard [illegible] the same number of strokes, but her inboard work was noticeably inferior to Yale's.

The half mile was reached in [illegible] and Yale had gained a half length lead. The race for the next half mile was very exciting. Yale dropped her stroke to thirty-four, but Harvard kept on at thirty-six, doing her best. Harvard could not hold Yale, and when the mile flag was reached the stern of Yale's boat was just clear of Harvard's bow.

YALE AN EASY WINNER.

The enthusiasm was now at a high pitch and the partisans of both crews shouted themselves hoarse. The mile flag was passed in fast time, 4:51 for Yale and 5:0[illegible] for Harvard. At the mile and a half flag Yale had added half a length to her lead and Harvard appeared slightly rattled at the unexpected turn of affairs. Yale now began to take matters more easily and dropped down to thirty-two strokes per minute. Harvard still kept at thirty-six. Yale's superior stroke and clocklike work proved very effective, and although Harvard kept her stroke at thirty-six she gradually dropped astern.

Yale passed the two-mile flag in 10:1[illegible] and Harvard in 10:[illegible]. Yale kept up her long, sweeping stroke and seemed to settle to telling work, and in the next half mile gained half a length. At this point two and one half miles, Yale's time was 13:0[illegible] and Harvard's 13:1[illegible]. Harvard was now doing better work, and between the two and a half and three and a half mile flags, by running her stroke up to thirty-eight succeeded in cutting down Yale's lead to two lengths.

The time at the three miles was [illegible] for Yale [illegible]. Yale passed the three and one half mile flag in [illegible] and Harvard in 18:[illegible].

Yale now began to spurt the first and only time during the race, running the stroke up to thirty-nine, while Harvard was pulling only thirty-five. The effect was wonderful. The Yale shell moved through the water at a great pace and began to run away from the other boat. Harvard attempted to respond to Yale's spurt, but the result was disastrous, [illegible] lost time and [illegible] their stroke badly. Yale kept up her spurt the whole of the last half mile and with such telling effect that she gained fully five lengths in that distance, crossing the line seven lengths ahead of Harvard [illegible] 20:41. Harvard's time was [illegible]. The [illegible] the judges' boat steamed up the river leaving the press boat to its own resources.

MISS CLEVELAND.

Extracts from her Correspondence with the Publisher of the "Literary Life."

CHICAGO, July 2.—It is expected that Miss Cleveland will arrive in Chicago within the next week to enter upon her duties as editor of the Literary Life. The negotiations which resulted in her undertaking the work were carried on principally by letter. In her reply to the first letter, in which the subject was broached, Miss Cleveland says: "I quite agree with your idea and could not fail to have much enthusiasm in the consecration of my energies toward its realization. While, however, my possible embarkation in such an enterprise as the literary management of such a periodical would necessarily involve the sacrifice of other plans and interests, with my idea of the position you propose to me I could admit no conflicting or dividing interest to interfere with it at work."

In a subsequent letter Miss Cleveland says: "Your letter has been carefully considered by me. While I may not be possessed of that energy and enterprise which is characteristic of the West, yet should I go to reside there there is no telling what personal contact with your people may result in. Chicago seems to me to have a high destiny as the western metropolis of art as it is now the metropolis of commerce. I have often wondered why Chicago and the West did not support a dozen at least of high class monthlies. I have heard so much of Chicago, its architecture, its boulevards, its parks, etc., that I am most anxious to meet its enterprising people. If I assume editorial management of your magazine I must have absolute control of its literary department, and I must resign all other work, for I do not agree with your idea that I could, while editing the same, still pursue my present plans and studies. I could reserve nothing of energy in other directions. [illegible] any expectations on that ground would be vain."

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

SENATOR PUGH'S DAUGHTER RESCUED.

OMAHA, July [illegible].—Two years ago the daughter of Senator Pugh of Alabama was married to a man who proved to be not only a worthless fellow but a tyrannical brute. She and her husband came to Omaha and resided here for some months and then moved to Council Bluffs. During all the time they lived in Omaha and Council Bluffs the husband treated her cruelly and kept her in destitute circumstances. He also prevented her by force and confinement from communication with her father. A few days ago the wife by accident obtained audience with State Senator George Wright of Council Bluffs, to whom she told her story and applied for assistance. Senator Wright at once telegraphed Senator Pugh, who had been unable all the time to find any trace of his daughter. The result was that young Pugh, the wife's brother, arrived in Council Bluffs and, going to the residence, obtained admittance. With a drawn revolver he advanced upon his sister's husband, threatening to kill him. The husband escaped out of a back door, and came to Omaha. Young Pugh took his sister and her little child and departed for Alabama.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

NEW YORK, [illegible].—The World says editorially: [illegible] The opposition of the French chambers to M. de Lesseps's scheme for raising $120,000,000 for the purpose of completing the Panama canal appears to be giving way to a universal feeling that France cannot permit any other country to reap the glory of carrying through the enterprise. De Lesseps [illegible] and the fact that almost every petty French shopkeeper has his savings invested in Suez canal stock have a great deal to do with this incomprehensible blindness on the part of a proverbially thrifty nation to the financial aspect of the Panama undertaking. If the canal is eventually completed it will not be by the present promoters, but much more probably by some American syndicate which, having purchased the bankrupt concern at moderate cost, will have a far better prospect of managing the canal as a paying business than the present company, overweighted as it is by the enormous capital sunk in the undertaking.

THE HACK HIT BY JUDGE HILTON.

SARATOGA, July [illegible].—Another act of proscription by Judge Hilton, acting for the Stewart estate in the management of the Grand Union hotel here is noted. This time the proscribed people are representatives of over thirty leading drug houses who are here in connection with the annual meeting of the American Institute of Homeopathy. Arrangements had been made by the drug men for quarters, and it was agreed to allow them to exhibit their goods in the club house. The exhibits had been placed in position when the judge dropped in [illegible] the manager he demanded who had [illegible] the use of the place for an exhibition. He thereupon ordered everything removed within two hours. The goods were landed upon the sidewalk and the drug men compelled to take quarters [illegible] at Congress Hall.

A TERRIBLY DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.

NORRISTOWN, N. J., July 2.—A terrible explosion took place this morning at 7:30 at the Atlantic Giant Powder works, situated between McKainsville and Drakesville, resulting in the loss of ten lives and the injury of ten or twelve others. The explosion took place in the mixing [illegible] cause is as yet unknown. The loss is not known at present, but will be very heavy. The concussion was felt distinctly for twenty miles around and glass in houses five miles away was shattered.

The cause of the Atlantic giant powder explosion at McKainsville will probably never be known. A double force of men began work at [illegible] to-day, so that business could be suspended from Saturday until Tuesday morning. The explosion occurred in the mixing room. The building was blown into splinters, and fragments of the bodies of workmen were picked up 500 feet from the scene. Some pieces were taken from branches of trees many yards away. The largest portion of a body yet found will not weigh fifteen pounds. An immense excavation was made where the building stood and devastation is apparent for 500 feet in every direction.

A NEW SYSTEM.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—A new system of [illegible] proposals for supplying miscellaneous items needed at the various public buildings situated at different places throughout the country has been inaugurated at the treasury department. Hitherto it has been the custom to receive bids from residents of the cities in which the buildings needing supplies are situated. This was found to work badly, especially in New York, where it was discovered that in some instances the government was compelled to pay more for goods bought than they would pay in open market. Now competition is thrown open and a resident of Washington can make proposals on goods or buildings in New York or San Francisco or vice versa. A specific list has been prepared of items for which proposals are asked, at which bidders [illegible] with blank columns [illegible] for the bidders [illegible] offer. These can be obtained at the treasury department [illegible]

SMOTHERED TO DEATH.

JACKSON, Mich., July [illegible].—Irwin Miles met a horrible death this evening by being buried in a well [illegible] was sinking on a farm near River Junction, five miles north of this place. Miles went into the well, which was twenty-five feet deep, and proceeded to [illegible] a large boulder, which one [illegible] caved in upon him, completely covering him. [illegible] seeing they could not give him immediate help [illegible] to reach him by [illegible] through the loose earth [illegible] talk to them [illegible] body was recovered.

CONVENTION [illegible]

DENVER, July [illegible].—A special train bearing 199 delegates to the [illegible] convention of the American [illegible] engineers arrived [illegible] this morning. They were much fatigued after the journey, and the meeting which was to have been called [illegible] postponed until this afternoon the proceedings which were only those [illegible] This evening the association [illegible] welcomed by [illegible] on behalf of the state and [illegible] mayor on behalf of the city, after which [illegible] of St. Louis, president of the association, delivered the annual address. After adjournment [illegible] reception was tendered at the Windsor hotel.

THE THREATENED STRIKE OF POSTAL CLERKS.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 2.—The executive committee of the Brotherhood of Postal Clerks held a secret meeting here to-day. About thirty delegates representing [illegible] divisions of the order were present. A telegram was sent to Postmaster-General Vilas asking whether he would receive a committee of the clerks, but no answer was received. Another meeting was held in the evening and it was decided, notwithstanding Mr. Vilas's failure to answer the inquiry, to send a committee of two to Washington for the purpose indicated. The [illegible] action of the brotherhood will depend on the reply the postmaster-general makes to the committee. The committee will be in Washington [illegible] next week.

A [illegible] MAKER DYING.

CINCINNATI, July 2.—Wm. Haines, widely known throughout the country as an inventor and manufacturer of dynamite bombs, is lying very ill at his home in Covington, Ky., and death is momentarily expected. It is said that he has some $40,000 worth of bombs hidden on the banks of the Mississippi between [illegible] and Memphis. He has furnished the [illegible] to several foreign governments and was negotiating with Greece during the recent war excitement there. [illegible] he said that Hon. J. F. [illegible] had informed him that he had not succeeded in getting the government to purchase his patent for $150,000.

MORE FUNDS FOR PARNELL.

DETROIT, July [illegible].—When the second reading of the home rule bill was defeated in parliament it was promised that $1,000 would be sent to campaign expenses for each Irish member [illegible]. The following cable was sent from here to-day: "Parnell, [illegible] sent [illegible] more has been remitted to your trustees. The league in America [illegible] more than equal to its engagements.

CHARLES O'REILLY, treasurer."

This makes $1[illegible]00 or $[illegible],000 sent by O'Reilly within a week, or $1,000 for each Irish [illegible] who voted with Parnell for the second reading.

A [illegible] BOYCOTT.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—A boycott [illegible] [illegible] brewery [illegible] [illegible] rule [illegible] decision [illegible] public [illegible] recent ruling of the courts will bring the [illegible] of the [illegible] law. Knights of Labor say boycotting [illegible] quite as effectively as if walking delegates were perambulating in front of the breweries.

HIGH WATER IN VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Va., July 2.—A heavy rainfall for the past forty-eight hours has caused a damaging rise in all the streams in this section of the state. The James river at this point is ten feet above high water mark, and all the wharves in the lower part of the city, [illegible] are submerged, the water being about two feet deep in lower Main street, and still rising. [illegible] in that vicinity are moving out and merchants are removing their goods to places of safety.

LARGE BARNS BURNED.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 2.—The tree[illegible] farm of [illegible] Emery, nine miles south of Cleveland, was visited by fire this afternoon. A large barn valued at $[illegible],000, and a smaller one worth $3000 were consumed. Hay and grain valued at $[illegible] were also burned. The barns contained thirty-four fine horses at the time, but all were saved except four.

A HEAVY WINNER.

PITTSBURG, July [illegible].—The Leader to-day prints the following in regard to the Troubadour-Wood [illegible]: Capt. Sam Brown, before going East, stated that he was sure of his horse's ability to win. He wagered $[illegible],000 on the outcome at very gratifying odds. His returns [illegible] largely in excess of $200,000.

ANOTHER VETO BY THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, July [illegible].—The president to-day approved the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, the act authorizing the Denison & Washita Valley railroad company to construct and operate a railway through the Indian territory, and many private pension bills. He also vetoed one private pension bill.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—Mr. Powderly will carry [illegible] to-morrow.

General Organizer Jennie said to-night that the order of Knights of Labor had extended its [illegible] and [illegible] stronghold in England, Wales, Belgium, Germany and Italy.

THANKS FROM IRELAND.

DETROIT, July [illegible].—The following cable message was received in this city to-day:

Rev. Dr. O'R[illegible], Detroit: Assure American friends of our deepest thanks for the magnificent contribution of £1,000 received. BIGGAR.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

BOYCOTTERS SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

NEW YORK, July [illegible].—The convicted boycotters on Theiss, proprietor of a concert garden, were arraigned in court to-day for sentence. Judge Barrett made some strong remarks to them on the crime of which they were convicted. He said this was a violation of the peace of the country that welcomed foreign born citizens to its shores; that offered freedom and the privilege of right. They had violated [illegible] rights and opinions and their offence was nothing short of blackmail. The distribution of circulars before places of business was a conspiracy, and punishable as such. Their conduct, if unpunished, would lead to savagery. They may have been misled by bad advice, but their counsel should have rebuked them. They did not use their power for their own advantage, and this [illegible] the court. He would not impose the full penalty of the law as they were workingmen. The judge then sentenced Paul Wietzel [illegible] to two years and ten months of hard labor, and Michael Brop and Julius [illegible] one year and six months imprisonment. [illegible] the most violent of any of the boycotters, got three years and eight months in state prison.

LAWLESSNESS IN KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, July 2.—A special from [illegible] county says: Moonshiners, who were opposed by Mr. Paxton in the manufacture of untaxed whisky, burned the Baptist church to which he belonged, burned his house and also the dwellings of three of his neighbors, and poisoned a large number of cattle. Paxton, accompanied by his neighbors, James Pennington, Tobias Cox and Samuel Slaver, went gunning for the incendiaries Monday, and coming upon two of them named respectively Simens and Turkison, shot them down and buried them.

MURDERER SENTENCED.

DENVER, July [illegible].—After a trial lasting a week Victor A. Elliott, judge of the district court, this afternoon sentenced Andrew Green, colored, to be hanged July [illegible] for murdering J. C. Whitman, a street car driver, on May [illegible] while attempting to rob the money box on the car. John Witters, also colored, Green's accomplice in the crime, was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

A SMALL GAIN BY THE TORIES

A Flattering Personal Victory for Gladstone—A Majority of the Elections in Uncontested Boroughs Home Rule Vote.

PARNELLITES AND [illegible]

LONDON, July 2.—Parnell and [illegible] have been elected to represent Cork city in the commons. They were not opposed. [illegible] has been re-elected for [illegible] Up to [illegible] this afternoon [illegible] liberals, [illegible] unionists and [illegible] Parnellites were elected.

THE ELECTIONS IN IRELAND.

LONDON, July [illegible].—[illegible] Power, Parnellite, was elected to represent the east division of Waterford. Mr. Conway [illegible] elected for Kilkenny and Mr. Pinkerton [illegible]

Patrick [illegible] at High [illegible] two candidates whom [illegible] to contest two [illegible] for Dublin university against David Plunkett and Hugh Holmes, both conservatives, who had been in the last parliament and were nominated for the [illegible] next were cheered [illegible] to-day wherever they went by students of the university. The latter at one time attempted to drive the home rulers out of the district, which is a great tory stronghold. Plunkett, however, prevented the outrage. The Parnellites stood their ground and made a plucky contest, although the students and tories thwarted every effort on the part of the candidates to make speeches by drowning their voices with roars and hoots. Mr. Sarsfield's scarlet gown was pulled away from him and thrown to the mob, who tore it into small pieces. The students threw rotten eggs at Johnson and Sarsfield. The conservative candidates were given a fair hearing. The students, singing "God Save the Queen," kept up an uproar for three hours. Finally, by show of hands, the provost declared Plunkett and Holmes elected. A poll, however, was demanded and the provost ordered that a poll be taken next week.

A TORY VICTORY.

LONDON, July [illegible].—The feature of to-day's polling is the great number of abstentions. In nearly every case the votes are greatly reduced [illegible] The liberals have won seats in east [illegible], southwest Manchester, north Manchester and in the Exchange division of Liverpool. The tories have won seats in south Salford, west [illegible] and Hereford, Hastings, [illegible] mouth and south Bristol, a net tory gain of two. The unionist candidate for Newcastle-under-Lyme holds his seat notwithstanding frantic efforts to defeat him. The unionist candidate at Bristol is equally successful. Jacob Bright, Gladstonian, brother of John Bright, is elected in Manchester. Sir Thomas Brassey, Gladstonian, who left Hastings to contest Liverpool, failed. [illegible] tory received [illegible] liberal [illegible] and Davey [illegible] Herbert Gladstone [illegible] Williams [illegible] It is feared that [illegible] liberals.

A REVIEW OF THE DAY.

LONDON, July [illegible].—The results of [illegible] election indicate [illegible] the contest. The unionists [illegible] owing to the number returned [illegible] from [illegible] so far [illegible] Manchester [illegible] three Gladstonians and three [illegible] Liverpool, [illegible] unionists and [illegible] Gladstonians. Bristol, three unionists and one Gladstonian. Leeds, three Gladstonians and two unionists. The only Scotch election was in Perth, which returned a Gladstonian by a small majority. Three London divisions, East [illegible], [illegible] North [illegible] and Strand, have elected unionists [illegible] Lord Randolph Churchill [illegible] and W. H. Smith.

A feature of the election is the general [illegible] majorities. For example, Mr. [illegible] carried Wexford by only [illegible] [illegible] majority [illegible] In Liverpool T. P. O'Connor's majority was [illegible]

Mr. Chamberlain writes to a correspondent that he hopes the agricultural laborers will give their votes to the unionists against the government proposals, which he says would delay the [illegible] and pledge the country for £150,000,000 to [illegible] Ireland.

PRESS COMMENT.

LONDON, July 2.—The Times, commenting on the elections, says: "Though no decisive [illegible] material advantage has been gained by either [illegible] evident [illegible] the transfer [illegible] Mr. Gladstone barely holds his own [illegible]"

The D[illegible] News says the government [illegible] considering the disadvantages [illegible] strengthening.

The St[illegible] says: "The results are [illegible] the unionists. Rather the [illegible] in England is much less important than the [illegible] pretended or defections among the [illegible] are more serious than Gladstone's friends [illegible] like to admit."

The Daily Telegraph says: "It is too early to [illegible] the result, but so far there is little encouragement for Gladstone's wild project."

GLADSTONE ISSUES A MANIFESTO.

LONDON, July [illegible].—Gladstone has issued a manifesto to the Welsh electors in which he says: "This is not the first nor the tenth time that the [illegible] have raised a cry of alarm and predicted the ruin of the empire. They have been at it all their lives. They have always raised that cry when those great and good measures were proposed which have [illegible] the age illustrious—the reform of parliament, abolition of the corn laws, of slavery, of religious tests, of church rates and of the Irish church, freedom of trials, the law in defense of tenants' rights, and many more good measures. Which did they give you? Which did they not oppose and cry down as destructive of the constitution and the throne, of religion and the prosperity of the people? They say the Irish are never content, nor would you be content if you had been oppressed as they have been. Above all, if after you had had [illegible] for 600 years it had been taken [illegible] mixture of violence and corruption [illegible] which disgraces the [illegible] of Ireland. This parliament Irishmen have been driven to get back. They now ask [illegible] subordinate legislature such as the colonies [illegible] Give it them promptly and graciously [illegible] Wellington [illegible] before granting [illegible] compelled to yield under the terror of civil war. PARNELL AND CHAMBERLAIN.

LONDON, July [illegible].—Gladstone has telegraphed [illegible] Thomas Power O'Connor [illegible] in Liverpool [illegible] the Irish [illegible] will vote to a man for [illegible] the all important and absorbing policy of the government.

Mr. Chamberlain writes: "I do not believe they are pledged to coercion. I believe they [illegible] are willing to go much further [illegible] local government for Ireland than [illegible] Tories."

SEIZURE OF AN AMERICAN SCHOONER.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 2.—A telegram from Shelburne, N. S., to-night states that the Dominion cruiser Terror this afternoon formally seized the Portland fishing schooner City Point, which was forcibly detained at Shelburne yesterday for an alleged violation of the fishery treaty. The vessel is to be taken to the wharf at once, but the authorities will await instructions from Ottawa before stripping her.

HALIFAX, July 2.—Consul General Phelan did not receive official intelligence of the seizure of the Portland fishing schooner City Point at Shelburne until a late hour this evening. The United States consular agent at that point telegraphed that the vessel had been seized by the captain of the cruiser Terror and stated that he would send full particulars by mail. Earlier in the day, before the news of the seizure came to hand, Consul-General Phelan received a telegram stating that the detention which was reported last night was caused by [illegible] allowing the men to land with their [illegible] before he had reported to the custom authorities. The instructions upon which Capt. Quigley of the cruiser acted in taking possession of the City Point reached Shelburne from Ottawa this afternoon. Capt. THE OAKLAND SCANDAL.

OAKLAND, July [illegible].—The examination of Morris Rosenberg on a charge of assault to commit rape upon Ellen Kirnan, a servant employed in his family, was held at the police court this morning. The complaining witness, a modest appearing Irish girl, testified that she was 1[illegible] years of age and had been in this country about a year. On Monday last defendant came into the basement where she was washing and made an indecent proposal to her. She refused, and he offered her a silk dress, and finally added $50. She replied that [illegible] came to America to make a living in that way. He then made an assault upon her and she struck him in the face with a cloth which she was washing, and screamed. Her cries brought several members of the family from upstairs. She told [illegible] at Rosenberg had insulted her. [illegible] the [illegible] papa is up to his old tricks again. [illegible] was subjected to a rigid cross-examination but stuck to her story.

Mrs. White, the girl's aunt, testified that the girl told her of the assault. She had gone with her [illegible] Rosenberg [illegible] to get the balance [illegible] Rosenberg then denied that he had [illegible]

Lillie Rosenberg, daughter of the defendant, testified that at lunch she noticed that the girl looked as if she had been crying. She said that Mrs. Rosenberg had scolded her for breaking a dish.

Morris Rosenberg, defendant, testified that he never made any assault upon the girl. He reproved her for neglecting her duties and she retaliated by calling him a vile name.

At the conclusion of the testimony Judge Henshaw ordered the defendant discharged.

OTHER AMENDMENTS.

Amendments increasing the salaries of the assistant treasurers at [illegible] and Boston besides the [illegible] in the [illegible] bill gave rise to another [illegible] of which Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, contradicted and repudiated the claim made in the house that that body had saved $800,000 in cutting down the appropriations in this bill. He showed that $[illegible] of the reduction claimed applied to the expenses of the [illegible] which always must be less in a short session (for which the bill provides) than in a long session, that [illegible]000 of it was from reductions in the pension office specifically ordered in the bill of last congress, that $200,000 of it was in expenses connected with the internal revenue [illegible] and that the reduction in the appropriations for that bureau would be in the interest of moonshiners and illicit distillers, that $[illegible]000 came from an omission to appropriate that sum for the mint at San Francisco (which would have to be taken out of the permanent appropriation under the silver act of 1878), and that the rest of the reduction claimed by the house came from cutting down and scaling the salaries of officers here and there as in cases under consideration.

The amendment increasing the compensation of the commissioner of pensions from $4000 to $5000 was rejected 21 to 25. The vote was subsequently rescinded and the amendment agreed to without division.

A like amendment as to the commissioner of patents was agreed to [illegible]

The senate then took up the river and harbor appropriation bill, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

[illegible] the senate bill was passed [illegible] additional justice of the supreme court [illegible] territory of Montana.

Payson of Illinois from the committee on public lands reported back the bill forfeiting lands granted to certain southern states to aid the construction of railroads, with the senate amendment [illegible] the Gulf & Ship Island railroad from the terms of forfeiture. The amendment was finally agreed to [illegible]

Harmer of Pennsylvania presented a petition [illegible] citizens of Pennsylvania urging the passage of bills now pending before congress calculated to protect the interests of labor referred.

The house then went into committee of the whole (Hammond of Georgia in the chair) on the [illegible] bill. There was no general debate, and the clerk proceeded to read the amendments.

Cannon of Illinois offered an amendment making an appropriation for the payment of claims of the Pacific Mail steamship company for transportation of troops to Panama in June 1885. He [illegible] that it was the duty of congress to pay this claim, which had accrued by reason of the order of President Cleveland under the statute to send troops to Panama to protect the property of American citizens. Not to provide an appropriation would be to cast censure upon the president. Agreed to [illegible]

The clause making an appropriation of $[illegible] for defraying the expenses of the board of visitors to the naval academy in June 188[illegible] having been reached, Tarsney of Missouri [illegible] to the clerk's desk and had read a voucher submitted to the disbursing officer at Annapolis giving an itemized statement of the expenses incurred. Much merriment was indulged in as the clerk read the list of eatables and drinkables, including turtles, spring chickens, deviled eggs, squash beer, Cognac, Santa Cruz rum and Apollinaris.

Cannon called attention to the fact that congressional visitors were not subject to criticism in this connection. Whatever of blame there was attached to officers of the academy who expended the money.

Dingley of Maine offered an amendment providing that none of this sum or other appropriations made by congress for expenses of the board of visitors shall be used to pay for intoxicating liquors. The amendment was adopted [illegible] to 40.

[illegible] of Missouri, in speaking to the paragraph relating to the navy department, submitted some remarks in which he contrasted the condition of the navy in 186[illegible] with its condition to-day. In 186[illegible] there were 302 serviceable vessels in the navy. To-day there were but eighty-seven vessels, and of these the secretary of the navy certified that only thirty-seven were serviceable. During these twenty years $41[illegible],000,000 had been expended for the naval establishment, of which $[illegible],000,000 had been expended for construction and repair.

After finishing 43 of the 119 pages of the bill the committee rose and the house took a recess until 8 o'clock. The evening session is to be for consideration of pension bills.

At the evening session the house got into a deadlock and without transacting any business it adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

WILL CONTEST A VETO.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The house committee on invalid pensions has resolved to attempt to pass over the president's veto the bill granting a pension to Andrew J. Wilson of New York, and Mr. Sawyer to-day reported the measure back to the house, giving notice that it would be called up to-morrow. It appears from the report of the committee that Wilson was drafted into the army, notwithstanding his allegation that he was suffering from deafness and an eye complaint. In service he contracted rheumatism and kidney disease, on which he based his application for a pension. The application was rejected by the pension bureau on the ground that he was disabled before he enlisted, which was also the reason for the veto. The committee take the position that under the circumstances the government is stopped from setting up a claim of prior disability.

The invalid pension committee has also reported back the bill granting a pension to C. W. Tiller, with a recommendation that it be passed over the president's veto. This is the case of the Louisville [illegible] whose application for a pension as dependent parent was denied by the pension bureau [illegible] that the dependency of claimant was established.

PRIVATE PENSION BILL VETOED.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The president to-day returned to the house without his approval the act granting a pension to Wm. Boone. It appears that Boone, who has never made application for a pension to the pension office, enlisted in August 1861, was in action in November the same year, and was taken prisoner and at [illegible] paroled. During his parole he took part in a Fourth of July celebration at [illegible], Ill., in 186[illegible], and was terribly injured by the discharge of a cannon, which he was assisting to manage. In reviewing the case the president says he is unable to discover any relation between the accident and military service, or any reason why if a pension is granted as provided by this bill there should not also be a pension granted to any of the companions of claimant who celebrated the day at the same time. He says further: "The disabled man and his wife and family, if in need, are objects which appeal to the sympathy and charitable feelings of any decent [illegible] but it seems to me that it by no means follows that those entrusted with the people's business and expenditure of the people's money are justified in so executing the pension laws as that they shall be the means of relief in every case of distress or hardship."

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The civil service commission has adopted a resolution changing the present methods of selecting officers of local examining boards. Under the new rule boards of examiners at the various post offices and custom houses throughout the country are required to meet on the first Thursday in July each year and elect a chairman and secretary, the officers elected to be subject to approval by the commissioners. The resolutions, a copy of which have been sent to all local boards, emphasize the existing rule regarding the names and standing of persons on the list of eligibles to be selected from.

PORTLAND, SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1886

GETTYSBURG.

Twenty-three years ago to-day the great Union victory of Gettysburg was finally won after three days of terrible fighting. Gettysburg is justly regarded as the most critical battle of the war. Loss of it by the Union army would doubtless have given Lee possession of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, and the richness of the prize that awaited him probably tempted Lee to struggle so desperately, not simply to defeat but destroy the Army of the Potomac. In no other engagement did Lee take the offensive so recklessly as at Gettysburg. He fought at the disadvantage, not only of assaulting a strong position, but his line was so much longer than that of Meade that his plan of simultaneous movements against both flanks of our army miscarried, and he was ultimately repulsed, since Meade, holding the shorter line, could move our troops faster than Lee from point to point. Lee's plan of invasion, which was foiled at Gettysburg, was undertaken because the Confederate cause was in deep need of some substantial stroke of success. Chancellorsville had cost Lee 13,000 men, and was a barren victory. Vicksburg, it was clear, must soon surrender, and it was necessary to offset this impending disaster by some great compensating triumph. The agents of the Confederate government wrote that, if Lee could once firmly plant his soldiers on Northern soil, England would at once acknowledge the independence of the South, and ample loans could be negotiated. The Confederate agents at the North promised a draft rebellion in every great city. Lee hoped to draw our army into a position where he could shatter it completely by one decisive blow, and dictate a peace. He came very close to complete success more than once during that terrible three day's battle, and our escape from defeat was not entirely due to valor of our men or the skill of our generals. Our army crossed the Potomac June 25th, 1863, to strike Lee's communications. The night of June 28th, Lee, with Harrisburg almost in reach of his hand, ordered his corps commanders to turn back and concentrate at Gettysburg. On the 29th the Union cavalry chief, Gen. Pleasonton, ordered Gen. Buford to occupy Gettysburg the next day, and hold it until the Army of the Potomac came to his relief. Buford reached Gettysburg the 30th of June, and on the morning of July 1st held the ridges to the west of it. Heth's division of Lee's army, that had started early that morning for Gettysburg, struck Buford's lines about 8 A. M., and the great battle of Gettysburg began.

Gen. Reynolds arrived at the head of the First corps of our army about 10 A. M. Reynolds ordered Gen. Howard, who was approaching with the Eleventh corps, to post his men on Cemetery Hill as a reserve. Gen. Reynolds was soon after killed by a sharpshooter, and Gen. Doubleday and Gen. Howard, with the First corps and two divisions of the Eleventh corps, resisted the enemy until 4:30 P. M., when our troops were forced to retreat before the assault of superior numbers, having lost in killed, wounded and prisoners about 9000 men, more than the whole army lost on either of the succeeding days' fighting. This first day's battle cost us very dear, but it saved us the position of Cemetery Hill and Ridge, from which to deliver a great battle. The real heroes of this first day of defeat were Reynolds, who promptly supported Buford and ordered the occupation of Cemetery Hill, and Doubleday, who gallantly fought a desperate battle against great odds from 10 A. M. to 4:30 P. M. Hancock arrived at 4:40 P. M. with orders from Meade to assume command, and from this hour Hancock was the hero and genius of Gettysburg. He at once ordered the occupation of Culp's Hill, which became the right of our line, and sent word to Meade that the ground was a good battle-field. To Reynolds, who directed its occupation, and to Hancock, who approved it and persuaded Meade to hold it, did we owe this fortunate advantage of a defensive battle-ground of our own choice. Lee might have easily stormed these heights, if he had acted promptly, but he delayed until the Third and Twelfth corps came up, and the opportunity was lost. Hancock posted Sickles and Slocum and really was in command until the arrival of Meade at 1 o'clock the next morning.

Next morning, July 2, found Lee with his whole army up, except Pickett's division, while two corps of the Union army, the Fifth and Sixth, were far away. Lee ordered an assault on both our flanks at 9 A. M., but owing to Longstreet's delay in forming his columns the assault was not delivered on our left until 3:30 P. M., and Ewell's assault on our right did not begin until the force of Longstreet's was nearly spent. This lost Lee the battle, for then we had all our army up. The battle of this day would have been lost to us if Gen. Warren had not seen that Little Round Top was the key to the whole position and rushed a brigade, without waiting for orders, up one side of this eminence just as the enemy climbed the other side. After a terrible struggle our troops repulsed the Confederates and saved the hill. Had it not been for Warren's action the rebel batteries would have been planted on this hill and then enfilading fire would have driven our whole army pell mell from the field. Longstreet's attack was so terrible that it smashed the Third corps to fragments and routed three divisions sent to its assistance from the Fifth and Second corps. The rebels this day actually pierced our center and held it for a short time, and had they been properly supported we were irretrievably defeated. The rebel brigades of Wright and Wilcox actually turned one of our guns upon us before they were driven back. Under the personal appeal and conduct of Hancock these retreating rebels were charged by a Minnesota regiment, who retook the captured [illegible] assault upon our right [illegible] one of his divisions occupied [illegible] Geary, whose division Meade [illegible] to reinforce the left with [illegible] troops to take its place. [illegible] the rebels had really turned our right flank, but did not know it in the darkness, while they had shattered our left so terribly that the Twelfth and Sixth corps were the only really fresh troops we had [illegible] that night Meade was so impressed by his losses that he wanted to retreat, but Hancock said the army of the Potomac had retreated too often, and Meade finally [illegible] saying angrily, "Have it your own way, gentlemen, but Gettysburg is no place to fight a battle."

The battle of the third day opened with an attack on Ewell at daylight, which ended in his expulsion from our right rear and the restoration of our line. About 1 P. M., after pounding our lines with the fire of 115 guns, Lee launched a column, composed of Pickett's famous division, Pettigrew's division, and Wilcox's brigade, against our left center, commanded by Hancock. Pettigrew's troops, who had suffered the day before and were new levies, were soon scattered. Wilcox did not start in time to protect the flank of Pickett's charge, and yet it came dangerously near a success. Pickett's splendid soldiers charged a mile and a half under a storm of shot and shell. The weight of this wonderful charge was first broken by an energetic and deadly flank attack of three regiments of Stannard's brigade, which destroyed Kemper's rebel brigade, but Armistead's brigade pressed on, pierced our front line, captured Wheeler's battery and held it a few minutes. Gen. Webb and Col. Hall, of the Second corps, under the eye and direction of Gen. Gibbon, who was here severely wounded, rallied the troops, charged the battery and shot down Armistead and all his men. If Wilcox had been in his place in time Stannard could not have struck Pickett's charging flank, for his own hands would have been full and Gettysburg probably would have been lost.

Meade has been severely blamed for not having posted fresh troops from the Sixth and Twelfth corps in rear of the Second corps before the rebel charge was delivered. In case of Pickett's success they would have received him, in case of defeat they could have followed him promptly and [illegible] lines before they could have been reorganized. This failure, the conduct of the pursuit and Meade's permitting Lee to cross the Potomac unmolested, just as McClellan did after Antietam, were blunders that added two years to our terrible war. The army of the Potomac at Gettysburg was about 80,000 strong, with 350 guns, Lee had about 75,000 men and 190 guns. The total Federal loss was 23,186, the total rebel loss 22,708.

If we view Gettysburg from the standpoint of what it saved to the North it was the greatest battle of the war, but to the South it was by no means an irreparable disaster. Lee inflicted more losses than he suffered, counting his captures at Winchester and Martinsburg, and he was strong enough, so that Meade never struck him afterwards, although there were four months of fine weather left before winter set in. Lee felt strong enough to detach Longstreet with 20,000 men, sent him to Bragg, who was thus enabled to defeat Rosecrans at Chickamauga September 20, 1863. Vicksburg as a coincident disaster made Gettysburg most effective, but Gettysburg, while it saved us, did not damage the rebels fatally in the sense that Vicksburg, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Nashville and the March to the Sea did. Lee defied Meade all summer after Gettysburg, and Bragg whipped Rosecrans so terribly as to paralyze the campaign at the West, and more than make up for Gettysburg, for it compelled the government to weaken Meade by sending the Eleventh and Twelfth corps, 20,000 men, to Tennessee. The rebel cause cannot be said to date its fatal wound from Gettysburg, for while we repulsed the enemy they inflicted as much damage as they received.

The "new man" of the Hillsboro Independent continues to write himself down an ass. Thus:

> The new man is pretty well acquainted with both the written and unwritten history of the editor of THE OREGONIAN and his peculiar methods. Through his influence Washington county lost the Indian training school, which was worth not less than $20,000 per annum to this county. Our Pacific university "understands" the editor of that paper, too. For years he has been an avowed enemy to that institution, and yet it is his alma mater. And why? Because it refused to elect him a member of its board of regents.

For the first time in his life the editor of THE OREGONIAN is favored with the information contained in the above extract. Never before did he know that he had exerted or tried to exert any "influence" to have the Indian training school removed from Washington county. It is news to him also that he is an "enemy" of Pacific university. The statement of the cause of that alleged enmity also comes to him as a surprise, since he never asked, suggested, solicited, thought of or desired to be elected a member of any board of regents. For many years he has had quite enough business of his own, and has not desired other business of any kind. In his persevering efforts to write himself down an ass the "new man" is getting on from week to week right well.

The state board of immigration has decided to fit out and send on a tour through the Western states another exhibit car, using for that purpose the surplus funds remaining in their hands after supplying the necessary printed matter and paying the running expenses of the rooms in this city. A practical farmer has been selected to accompany the car and talk Oregon. There is ample evidence on file at the immigration rooms to show that the exhibit car of last year was a thoroughly practical effort, so long as it was kept in the Northwestern states, scores of letters of inquiry attesting the fact. It is safe to say that the sight of the grain and fruit in that car, as it rolled about in the Western states, decided the heads of two hundred families to make homes in Oregon. Profiting by the experience of last year the commissioners will be able to make the car for '86 much more attractive and serviceable. The plan is an excellent one and to be heartily commended.

By error in collating the figures for comparison of the aggregate vote cast in the late election with the vote of 1884, the vote of 1882 was taken instead of that of '84. The vote on representative in congress in '84 was 49,351, and the vote in the recent election was 54,954. The increase, therefore, was 5603. The total vote in the presidential election of '84 was 52,732. In the recent election the increase over the last presidential vote was 2222. It is probable that a full vote, such as is called out only in a presidential election, would have given a total this year of over 60,000.

It is said that "notwithstanding the supplementary action of the board of trade, Senators Mitchell and Dolph are still in favor of the completion of the Cascade branch as a competing line of road from the East to Portland." Then mightn't it be a good thing to require the construction of the Columbia river road as that "competing line," so as to get a line that will really compete, or in default thereof, since the whole business has resumed the shape it now wears, to cut the land grant of the company down to the terms actually nominated in the bond?

Had Mr. Schulze sent to THE OREGONIAN direct from his office a proper number of the hectograph copies of the resolutions furnished by his bureau for the meetings held upon his suggestion in different parts of Washington territory he would have saved THE OREGONIAN a good stout telegraph bill, and would have enabled us to print some of the copies a day earlier than we did. This suggestion is thrown out as a hint for future action in similar cases.

The statement comes from The Dalles that Hon. W. Lair Hill has bought property in Oakland, Cal., and will in a short time remove from Oregon and take up his residence at that place. Mr. Hill's friends in Oregon will hear this with regret. As a man of culture, judgment, industry and intellectual power he has long stood in the foremost rank, and Oregon will feel the loss of one whose abilities are ample to open for him a career anywhere.

OFFICIAL DELINQUENCY.

PORTLAND, July [illegible], 1886.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

In June [illegible] H. Wise and John Doe were arrested by Thos. Mountain charged with bribing W. H. [illegible] to vote. They were taken before Justice Davis and required to give bonds in the sum of [illegible] each for their appearance on the next day. [illegible] gave personal bonds for both the accused. Pearson was committed to jail, in default of bail as a witness. The parties never had an examination before Justice Davis. Prosecuting attorney Gearin told Davis not to forfeit the bail or [illegible] anything about it as he (Gearin) did not want him to pay the $400 bail money. Will prosecuting attorney Gearin state how Pearson happened to be released from jail and who if any person went his bond and to whom the bond if any was given. Will Gearin also state why the bonds were not presented to the grand jury of the state circuit court. How is it Justice Davis has not returned the above mentioned bail bonds as forfeited? The county will require of Justice Davis $400 on the bail bonds forfeited by the operation of law by H. Wise and John Doe.

Is it not time for Mr. Gearin to explain this piece of work. Wise and his partner have been held in the sum of $500 each to await the action of the United States grand jury and United States attorney McArthur has expressed his determination to prosecute the offenders or secure the payment of the bonds should the same be forfeited. Doe has left for California and Pearson cannot be found, yet there is ample testimony to send Wise to the penitentiary. But how will Mr. Gearin justify his assistance in defending the laws that he swore to uphold.

THE LEVEE AND THE P. & W. V. RAILROAD.

PORTLAND, Or., July [illegible].

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

The persistency of the P. & W. V. Railway company in its claims to the "public levee" property in this city is surprising. There was supposed to be some limit, particularly in later years, to the grasping claims of railroad companies. They are supposed to be limited and restrained to what is requisite and necessary to enable them to carry out the purpose of their organization, and the duty is enforced upon them to observe and have regard for the rights of others, the same as private individuals are compelled to do. There is not a decision or authority that supports the claim of the railway to the "public levee" property, while by many decisions of the different state supreme courts and by the supreme court of the United States it is held that neither the legislature or the city has the power to transfer property situated as the "public levee" is, to the uses of a railroad.

The narrow gauge system of railroads through the Willamette valley, when completed, will probably be among the most valuable railroad properties in the United States, for the amount of capital invested, and it is not in the situation of needing charitable assistance.

If the levee property cannot be used in the way that it was dedicated, it should be returned to the donor or his heirs. This is common sense and is common fairness. When anyone gives money or property for a particular purpose, either for a Fourth of July celebration or anything else, and it is not used for the purpose for which it was given, it is supposed to be stolen; it is so said in English.

REDDING'S RUSSIA SALVE, the universal remedy for Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Bruises. 7

O. H. Holberg, pastor Woodhaven M. E. church South, Woodhaven, Queens Co., N. Y., states: "I have used Allcock's Plasters for thirty years. Never found them fail to cure weakness of the back, spine, and kidney difficulties. They are very agreeable and strengthening. A short time ago I got in a profuse perspiration while preaching. Imprudently going home without my overcoat I lost the use of my voice, and the next day had a violent pain in my back, kidneys and chest. I could hardly breathe. Three Allcock's Plasters applied to my back, chest and kidneys cured me completely in six hours. I was astonished how quick my breathing became easy after applying.

THE STAGE.

THE CASINO —The Casino company has met with great success in Astoria as in fact they always have done. To-night The Widow O'Brien will be performed for the first time. To-morrow Sunday July 4 final performance of The Chimes of Normandy while on Monday The Mascot will be placed on the Casino stage in a manner superior to anything yet seen here. The role of Bettina is one in which Miss Manfred should excel while Pyke should make a good Pippo and Kelly will undoubtedly be a killing Lorenzo. The Mascot will in all probability hold the boards till late in the week, when Prince Methusalem will be produced.

BROWN THE MIND READER —Mr J Randall Brown the famous mind reader who is announced to give one of his [illegible] seances at the New Market theater on Sunday evening next comes well endorsed by many leading scientists throughout the country. President Seelye of Amherst college says: "I think no fair and candid person could have viewed Prof Brown's experiments and have gone away without feeling that there is a world of power and investigation in the mental realm of which our psychologists have not given us the faintest glimpse."

THE PATHFINDERS —The last two performances of this company will be given to-day at 2 P M and this evening at [illegible]. The attendance will be large this afternoon as the performance is one that will please the children very much. The company play in Salem Monday evening.

M B Curtis the popular comedian supported by his own company will begin a one week's engagement at the New Market theater next Monday evening, presenting his famous impersonation of the commercial drummer in Sam'l of Posen. [illegible] the season of improved [illegible] Spot Cash will also be given during the engagement. Reserved seats are now on sale at Prentice's music store.

Y M C A BUILDING

Several causes including the recent severe sickness of President Wadhams have hindered the canvass for the building fund of the Young Men's Christian association. The offer of Mr W S Ladd to donate the lots on which the building is to be erected was conditional upon the amount being raised by July 1 [illegible] committee waiting upon Mr Ladd and making a statement of the amount secured—which is now $[illegible]000—and the prospect of largely increasing the sum Mr Ladd kindly consented to extend the time and renewed effort will at once be made to secure this offer. Our citizens can not afford to let this opportunity pass of placing the Y M C A upon a sound financial basis, and giving the institution opportunity to carry on its noble work under favorable conditions. The interests of our young men are our interests and it becomes us who have the future of our city and country at heart to see that the rising generation have good moral influences thrown around them to counteract the evils that are so prevalent in our midst. F

An Important Function Stimulated.

The kidneys exercise most important functions which are so wearisome that they tax to the utmost the strength and endurance of these busy little organs. Every breath, every pulsation of the heart, every movement of a limb, every thought makes waste and necessitates the development of new atoms. The used up particles in the blood are sifted from it and dissolved in a watery fluid by the kidneys which then discharge this fluid into the bladder. A train of disasters to the system would follow if these ashes, so to speak, were not thoroughly strained off and discharged. This is the case when the kidneys become inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by restoring their activity not only keeps open a most important outlet for impurities but prevents diseases of the kidneys themselves which when there becomes liable to fall a prey to diabetes, Bright's disease, nephritis albuminuria and other maladies specially incident to them which although not specially rapid in their progression are particularly obstinate and fatal.

THE GOVERNMENT GOT A VERDICT. The case of the United States against David C Kelly was decided in the United States court yesterday, the court finding for the government in the sum of $18 68 with interest amounting to $[illegible]0. Kelly at one time had charge of the Indian school at Forest Grove and the suit was brought to recover $1[illegible] the value of some cod liver oil medicines two or three table knives a calf skin a book on etiquette and other articles not turned over by him to his successor. A long and tedious investigation showed that the medicines had been taken, the knives worn out and that the book on etiquette had been used up by the Indian girls who had studied it a great deal and been much benefited thereby. Some of the articles missing were of so trifling a nature that they were passed over on the ground that de minimis non curat lex, which being freely translated signifies that the law is not to be worried about trifling things. The fact that there is no possibility of Uncle Sam ever getting [illegible] the $1[illegible] allowed to him makes the case rather unoperative for him.

ARRESTED FOR HORSE STEALING.—David Engart was brought from Sauvie's Island precinct yesterday and locked up in the county jail to await an examination before the grand jury on a charge of horse stealing. The case is a simple one and there don't appear to be much foundation for the charge. Monday afternoon George Anderson, Engart and George Cunningham while riding along in a wagon picked up a stray horse belonging to O'Leary a milkman. Engart rode it off for a piece and subsequently turned it into Holbrook's pasture. O'Leary objected to his horse being interfered with and caused the arrest of the three men. They had an examination before Justice of the Peace H T Heuteumeyer. Cunningham and Anderson were discharged from custody and Engart was held on $250 bonds.

THE WALLA BAND.—This morning the Second United States cavalry band of Walla Walla will arrive here. They will give an open air concert in the plaza and will head the procession Monday. Following is the personnel of the band: Leader M C Meyrelles, drum major G W Merryman, Bb cornets Charles Seymour, J De Falco and E Pat, Eb clarionet T Conway, Bb clarionets W Burt, J Kersey and A Wallner, flute and piccolo, A Sithner, saxophones F Brain and I Paris, [illegible] altos G Truslin, A Chappell and J Stern, baritone M Benz, trombones P Beyer and F Sens, [illegible] bass C Armstrong and H Koehler, bass drum B Constante, snare drums I Dunning and M Daly, cymbals J Earders.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH EXCURSION TO-DAY.—The Olympian leaves Ash street wharf at [illegible] M to-day for Astoria, Fort Canby and Ilwaco carrying the Christian church excursionists. As business houses and shops will generally close at noon to-day many will avail themselves of this opportunity of spending either one or two days at the beach, as desired. Those who are going will do well to purchase tickets at Prentice's No 10 First street early this morning. Berths may be secured on these tickets at Ash street wharf this morning for Saturday night. Berths and rooms for Sunday and Monday nights can be secured after the boat reaches Fort Canby.

IMMIGRATION DURING JUNE.—During last month 1040 passengers arrived in Portland by steamer from San Francisco. Of these 670 came in the cabin and 370 in the steerage. During the same time 529 first class passengers and 30 immigrants passed Heron on the Northern Pacific bound for this city, and 406 first-class passengers and 490 immigrants passed Huntington on the Oregon Short Line en route here. The total number of arrivals for the month was 3135 a compared with 4[illegible]0 for May, 4[illegible]43 for April, 4883 for March, [illegible]3 for February and [illegible] for January, a grand total of 2[illegible]5[illegible] for the first six months of the year.

THE TAYLOR STREET EXCURSION.—Secure your tickets for Monday's excursion on the Olympian, to be given by the ladies of the Taylor street M E church. A fine programme has been prepared for the occasion amongst which will be Fourth of July exercises. Hon M C George and other good speakers will take part therein. To insure good music the Sterling band has been engaged and there will be singing, recitations etc. It is therefore proposed to make this the excursion of the season. Tickets for the round trip $[illegible], children $1. Tickets can be had at the drug, music and stationary stores or of the committee.

BOY RUN OVER.—Thursday evening, as a heavy truck belonging to Mr Wilson was passing East Park street near Hall, Johnny Coyne, an 8-year old son of J F Coyne, attempted to clamber on the vehicle between the wheels. In some manner he slipped and fell, the hind wheel of the heavy truck passing over him. He was very seriously hurt, but no bones were broken and unless there are some internal injuries the little fellow may soon be out again. There were two other boys on the truck at the time and the driver was watching them and did not see young Coyne, so there can be no blame attached to the driver.

THE OFFICIAL SOUVENIR PROGRAMME of the Portland celebration can be had free on application at the following places: The West Shore office, Second and Yamhill, Hathaway's grocery Montgomery between Ninth and Tenth, Baum Brandes & Co., 145 First, Odell's bookstore First and Columbia, St. Charles hotel, Front and Morrison, The Bouquet, 67 Morrison, Ayer & Co's bookstore 93 First, McKercher & Thompson's 10[illegible] First, Dekum & Co's bookstore, 49 Washington, Harris & Co's trunk factory 49 First, public telephone office corner Eighteenth and B, East Portland at the postoffice.

STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—Excursion trains for the State Teachers association at Yaquina City will leave the O & C depot at 3[illegible] A M on Monday and Tuesday of next week. Teachers and others desiring to attend will purchase tickets to Corvallis at the usual rates. An authorized agent will furnish certificates on the train so that excursion tickets may be had from Corvallis to Yaquina and rebates on the return tickets from Corvallis to Portland. The excursions will stop two hours at Corvallis for dinner and reach Yaquina at 7 P M.

STILL ANOTHER ROBBERY.—Thursday night a burglar paid a visit to the residence of A Bissinger 3[illegible]8 Ninth street. He went into a bedroom upstairs and carrying Mr Bissinger's pantaloons and vest into an adjoining apartment rifled the pockets securing a gold watch and $100 in coin. A bunch of keys and a memorandum book were carried away by the thief and as Mr Bissinger is of the opinion that the fellow has no use for these articles he says he will pay him a reward of $5 for their return. The burglar seems to be our old friend as he used the kitchen way as a means of entrance.

FAREWELL SERMON.—Rev F Trumbull Lee for four years the pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church of this city having resigned his charge has accepted an invitation to the Tabernacle Presbyterian church of San Francisco. Galli has followed the business of a lime peddler and is said to be pretty well to do. His malady partakes of a religious tendency.

The huge drill which became fast at the bottom of the artesian well on W S Ladd's farm has been extracted and the contractor having received a lot of new bits from New York is joyfully proceeding with the work. The well is now down 1050 feet and is going toward the center of the earth at the rate of from three to ten feet per day.

A sheriff from Baker City passed through Portland yesterday having in charge two Chinamen who go to the penitentiary for six months each for opium smoking. The friends of the Celestials threatened to get out a writ of habeas corpus for their release in the United States court but backed out at the last minute, and the sheriff went on his way rejoicing with his prisoners.

Several right smart sprinkles of rain fell yesterday which while beneficial to growing crops were somewhat injurious to the new mown hay. There was scarcely enough to damage the cherries by causing them to burst open, and the Concord grapes are out of bloom and safe from injury by showers. A fruit grower in Clackamas was injured $1000 last year by showers which fell when his Concord grapes were in bloom.

In the case of Wells Fargo & Co vs the Northern Pacific Railroad company the injunction preventing defendant from interfering with the business of the express company was yesterday dissolved, plaintiff making no objections. The matter was referred to George H Durham master in chancery to assess the damages for defendant when defendant desires. It is scarcely probable that any demand will be made for damages.

THE COURTS.

U S CIRCUIT COURT

U S vs David C Kelly—Findings for plaintiff in the sum of $1[illegible] and $[illegible] interest.

Sol King, sheriff et al vs D M & T I Co—Demurrer sustained and bill dismissed.

Wells Fargo & Co vs the N P R R Co—Injunction dissolved and referred to Geo H Durham to assess damages for defendant.

W S Ladd vs L Koehler receiver—Exceptions to report of receiver argued and submitted.

Judge Smith will announce his decision to-day in the case of Fred Altner vs Watson Wright & Co on a motion for a new trial.

Judgment on the verdict was rendered by Judge Smith yesterday in the case of the city of Portland vs F Opitz et al, appellants, in favor of the following: R Knoll $400, Kate Knoll $400, Mrs H [illegible]eyman $1003, Louis Beno $100 and F Opitz $800. This is the case of the proposed extension of D street from North Nineteenth to Twenty-first. The street has not yet been extended but provided it is these judgments, which are for damages which will be incurred by the above mentioned parties, will hold good against the city. There are six other cases in the same street extension where verdicts were rendered against the city but judgments on the verdicts have not yet been asked for.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT NO [illegible]

Ah Hock will be called upon to plead to-day to a charge of the larceny of $10 worth of lead pipe May [illegible] from a building owned by Anna Voss.

Charles Jackson who stole a watch from the person of Jacob Conrad June 3 will also plead to-day.

George Bolton acknowledged entering Joe Barter's house June [illegible] and carrying away Joe's watch without first asking permission. Judge Stearns will sentence Bolton to-day for so doing. The plea entered was one of simple larceny.

A Mongolian who called himself Ah Yen took a notion to engage in the business of gardening, and as he required a rubber hose and did not have one of his own he borrowed one from the dwelling house occupied by George Woodward. The result is Ah Yen has been indicted on a charge of larceny from a dwelling and to-day will be given a chance to explain before Judge Stearns.

Ah Dong was arraigned on a charge of larceny in a shop. April 3 Dong went into the carpenter shop of R M Deeds and helped himself to about $30 worth of tools. Deeds objected and the result was the arrest of the heathen. He will be allowed to explain how he came by the property to-day in court.

An indictment has been returned against Ah Joe for smoking opium. Joe is one of the Chinamen arrested on the night of June [illegible] by Constable Higley.

When the police court convened yesterday the case of Joseph Sedgmore accused of using abusive language to Julia Condon his mother-in-law was called. The accused was present, but the complainant wasn't. Judge Dement consequently continued the case until to-day and ordered that a subpena issue for Mrs Condon.

As to-day to all intents and purposes is to be a holiday the police court will meet at 11 o'clock noon in order to give the prosecuting attorneys and presiding magistrate a chance to go to the races in the afternoon or wherever else their inclination leads them.

KOHN.
THE CLOTHIER AND HATTER
Cor. Second and Morrison Streets.

DO YOU KNOW
That our Great Clearance Sale is a Great Success? The reason of it is that we are doing as we advertise. We are selling at the Very Lowest Prices our entire stock, to close out Summer Goods on hand. We have marked our windows full of goods, and we give you the same goods inside our store. We don't throw out baits, as many stores usually do.

DO YOU KNOW
That we are selling Boys' Sailor Suits, plain fine flannel, blue or brown, at $1 75, $2 50 and $3 25, which are really worth double the price?

DO YOU KNOW
That we have a fine line Boy's Imported Cheviot and Tweed Suits, light or dark colors, at 4, 5 and $6, that have always sold at 6, 7 and $8?

DO YOU KNOW
That we have Boys' Waists, new styles and nobby patterns, at 50c, 75c and $1 that you have to pay for elsewhere 1, 1.25 and $1 50?

DO YOU KNOW
That Boys' Knee Pants, separate from suits, are now selling at 75c, and $1 25 which are worth double the price?

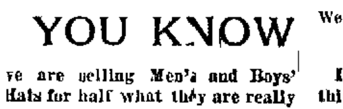
DO YOU KNOW
That there are thousands of people who do not read the daily papers, and if they did they could not tell you where KOHN THE CLOTHIER AND HATTER has his immense store?

DO YOU KNOW
Why? Simply because they squander their money at some one-horse concern, who is not up with the times, but who has the same old-time goods that were made 20 years ago.

DO YOU KNOW
Why we have a Clearance Sale twice a year? The reason is, because we have new ideas; we are modern, not ancient, we want New Goods all the time. This is the end of the summer season. We don't want to keep our summer goods to sell in winter. We want to sell them now, and the rush and crowd at our store daily proves to the public at large that we do as we say.

DO YOU KNOW
That we are selling men's summer suits at lower prices than some merchants here can purchase them for?

DO YOU KNOW
That 10, 12, 14 or $15 will buy a Nobby Suit at our store during our clearance sale? We want everybody to call on us, whether they buy or not. No trouble to show goods; plenty of salesmen to attend to all.



DO YOU KNOW
That we are selling Men's and Boys' Straw Hats for half what they are really worth. If you don't believe it, come and see us. If we can't sell you a hat, maybe we will give you one. We have so many Hats that we have to get rid of them some way, and that is why we are selling at such Low Prices.

Our Country Patrons
Will be cared for in the best manner, if they will drop us a line, telling us what they want. We will send them samples of Men's and Boys' Suits and rules for self-measurement. When ordering men's samples give chest measure and state whether for sack or frock coat, and for boys give the age. Our Illustrated Catalogue mailed free to any address.

THIS IS WHAT A. B. STEINBACH & CO.
—THE—
CLOTHIERS AND HATTERS,
Cor. First and Morrison Sts.,
CLAIM TO DO.
It is agreed by most men who profess to know anything about it, that when women get together for a chat the main topics discussed are dress servants and children. Some vary these subjects with servants, children and dress; but in the opinion of most males dress forms the main topic of conversation among the fair sex. Men are supposed to treat the matter of custom and fashion with contempt, but as a matter of fact they do not. They give it more attention than they are willing to admit. Take the well formed man selecting a suit. Did any woman ever show greater concern about style, cut, finish, buttons, etc. than he does?
Knowing this we have taken the utmost pains in the selection of our goods, and
WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT.
Everyone knows that for Style, Fit and Finish we cannot be equaled.
We offer our patrons their choice of the best the markets afford at reasonable prices.

THE SAUNDERS MURDER TRIAL

Testimony for the State Completed Yesterday—The Defense Begin

ALBANY July 2 All of yesterday was consumed in selecting the twelfth juror which was done last evening at o clock. The jury as selected is composed of representative citizens of the county and such men as may be expected to give the prisoner a just verdict. Two days were occupied in selecting the jury of which the following is a list W R. Garret Moses Parker S A Nickerson David Ambrose C Scott W H Churchill W I Dickens, John Trask John Kirk S P Barger J Beard James Weddle.

The jury was then sworn in after which a statement of the case was made on behalf of the state by Prosecuting Attorney Chamberlain charging the defendant with the premeditated and wilful murder of Charles Harvey Campbell W R Bilyeu spoke in behalf of Saunders and stated their plea would be self defense

The following witnesses were then examined in behalf of the state

Harry Putnam testified that he was well acquainted with Campbell and slightly so with Saunders that Mattie Allison occupied one half of the same building in which he worked as a millinery store and that on the day of the killing Saunders was in there several times and conversed with Miss Allison in regard to a letter she had received from some person named J Bankhead who desired to form her acquaintance and asked her to meet him near the engine house at 8 o clock Mattie said she thought the letter was from Campbell At noon Saunders walked down the street with me and told me that Campbell was annoying Mattie and that he was going to have a meeting with him and have the matter settled or he would thrash him, or words to that effect. He said that he did not know Campbell and asked me to point him out When I returned from dinner I stepped into the gun store and saw Saunders with a revolver in his hand. I called him out and showed Campbell to him I closed the store about 7 30 o clock and Mattie started up Ferry street and soon after I heard two shots.

James Egin testified that about noon on the day of the killing he met Saunders on the street and that he (Saunders) told him he had a team in town and to take it back to Corvallis as he had business here

George C Will testified he was a gunsmith and that on the day of the killing Saunders brought in a 45-calibre pistol and asked for 10 cents worth of cartridges to fit it I left pistol loaded and gave him remainder after which he left Here Saunders s pistol was shown witness and he recognized it as same one)

Frank M Marshall testified that he was not acquainted with defendant was in a saloon on the afternoon of the day of the killing and saw him playing cards with two men After the game they all called for whisky except Saunders He said that he did not want to get ginned up until evening

Aaron Condon one of the county commissioners testified that on the evening of the killing he was standing out near his front gate about eighty feet from where the killing occurred that while standing there two persons passed by him busily talking that he heard a woman say I have changed my mind that soon after he heard a shot and looking around saw the fire and heard another shot that after the first shot he heard something fall to the ground and a man said you have shot the wrong man that he hurried to the scene and saw Campbell lying on the ground and near him was standing Saunders and Campbell also Dr Maston C H Stewart and Moses Sternberg Heard some one say what shall we do with the body ' and some one answered get a dray and carry it away Mattie said take him to my mother s. Campbell said, doctor give me something I am dying The next morning I went and examined the place and found a bullet-hole in the walk looked as though bullet went nearly straight in

C H Stewart testified that he was sitting in his house reading just across the street from place of shooting that he heard two shots, rushed to door and heard some one exclaim Stop for God s sake you are shooting the wrong man I hastened over and found Campbell lying on the ground and near him were standing Saunders and Mattie Allison I asked who was shot. Saunders replied ' It is Charley Campbell it was accidental. I then asked Campbell where he was shot and he replied "In the bowels and in the leg Mattie started after a doctor soon returned with Dr Maston I went after a lantern and we carried Campbell to Mrs. Parrish s (Mattie Allison s mother) residence but she refused to let us go in so we then took him to Marshal Burkhart s house Next morning I examined place and had plank containing bullet sawed out bullet apparently entered straight down about the center of Campbell's body (Here witness was shown map of surroundings and also plank all of which he identified and described

D E. Mason testified that on the evening of the shooting Saunders came into his drug store and purchased an ounce of laudanum about thirty minutes after he heard two shots

Aaron Condra recalled and testified that while they were carrying the body to Mr Burkhart s residence Mr Saunders repeated three times that the shooting was accidental

Dr G W Maston testified that he was going into a gate about 140 feet from place of shooting when the two shots were fired. (Here witness was shown and described diagram of premises near shooting) As the shots were fired he set things in his hand on to walk and started towards shooting about half way met Miss Allison When first shot was fired heard a groan and after second shot heard Campbell say My God you have shot wrong man ' Heard some one say ' Go for a doctor After I arrived at place where shooting occurred I found Campbell lying on ground I asked him if they had a quarrel he said No he shot me down like a dog, then Saunders said No it was an accident. I did not know him from God s off ox I then noticed pistol in Saunders s right hand coat pocket and took it out and placed it in my own. I took a light and examined the wound but on account of rain had to take him away He begged for something to allay pain and said he was dying At house I examined wound found ball entered between seventh and eighth rib and lodged in backbone wound was a fatal one I told Campbell I could do nothing for him Next day I examined hole in walk and found a ball had entered in oblique line It was in walk about twelve or fourteen inches from his body After we took Campbell home I told him to send for the prosecuting attorney and told him what he knew as he was sure to die He died at about 6 o clock P M His dying statement as he told me was that on the fatal evening he and Mattie were walking up street and that at corner Saunders stepped out and without saying a word shot him down like a dog He had no weapons I talked to defendant in jail He asked me how near the heart the shot him I told him about one and half inches below. He said he did not think I was that far (Here witness examined pistol and identified it) There were two empty shells with a loaded one between them

Dr J L. Hill testified that at 1 o clock of the night of the shooting he was called to the residence of Mr Campbell to see the deceased Found him suffering, examined wound Here witness produced a skeleton and showed course of the ball It entered between seventh and eighth rib and lodged in the backbone at twelfth vertebrae mashing it all in pieces I told Campbell he had a slight chance for recovery His mental powers were all right and he fully realized that he must die Heard him make no statement of the case

Wm Dougherty testified that he was in his wood shed one block from where the shooting occurred At report he hurried to scene found several present After first shot heard some one exclaim ' You have shot the wrong man I asked Saunders who shot him and he said I shot him and did it accidentally He told me as follows I was coming along with my pistol in my hand and met Campbell and Mattie at the corner I stepped to one side to let them pass when the pistol went off accidentally and Campbell fell then the pistol swung down and went off accidentally again We took the body to Mrs. Parrish s but she would not let us bring him in the house so we crossed the street and took him into Mr Burkhart s Campbell told me that Saunders shot him without saying a word to him The night was very dark While carrying Campbell to house he said he never knew Saunders or Saunders him

M. Sternberg testified that on the night of shooting he was at his home when he heard the shots He saw flash of gun and at once ran to window raised it and jumped out and climbed over fence and ran to place of shooting When I arrived there several persons were present. Saunders remarked a man was accidentally shot Some one asked Mattie Allison if she was the cause of the shooting and she answered I guess I am In carrying body around Mr Saunders remarked several times that it was accidental

J D Campbell testified that he was the father of deceased Charley Campbell That the first time he saw Charley on the evening of the shooting was when they brought him home about o clock Heard Charley say several times during the night that he would die Charley told him in dying statement that in the evening he met Mattie Allison in front of court house that they walked along a block or two and heard some one coming that Mattie commenced talking very loud that he nudged her and told her not to talk so loud that they soon met Saunders and that without saying a word he shot him down like a dog He appeared to be perfectly rational up to the very last moment

Mrs J H Campbell testified that she was the mother of the deceased Charley Campbell that on the evening of the shooting he was brought home about o clock He told me he would never get well I told him it [illegible] on [illegible] to him to keep out of bad company He said he needed no [illegible] I asked him [illegible] happened He said [illegible] in the street and met Mattie Allison We were walking along and she commenced talking loud I told her [illegible] make so much noise We then met a man who shot me down without saying a word

J K Charlton sheriff testified that when he arrested Saunders at Mrs Parrish s that lady told him that he (Saunders) ought not to have killed Campbell because he slandered Mattie

George E Chamberlain testified that Campbell made the following dying statement to him In the evening I met Mattie and walked up past the court house When near a corner Saunders stepped out, and without saying one word shot me down like I was a dog I did not say one word to him nor he to me. After the shooting I told him he had shot the wrong man

The pistol as identified was offered in evidence being a five shooter having one cartridge between the two empty ones fired the state rested

THE DEFENSE

Bert. Johnson testified that on the day of the shooting he saw Campbell several times. I wrote a letter, as he dictated to Miss Allison In No 1 s engine house In the evening about 7 I changed clothing with him He said he was going to meet Miss Allison He had written two different letters. He said he was going to stay but a short time, and would soon be back He had me write the letters because he did not want the postmaster to know they were corresponding I wrote the two letters at different times At the time of changing the clothes, Campbell had in his hand a small black mustache.

Theodore Anderson testified that he changed hats with Campbell that evening

Al, Emert said that in June last he loaned Campbell a pistol the night he was special night watchman

Frank Baker, H. Boggs and C C Baber of Harrisburg testified that Campbell told them Mattie was a good girl.

Minnie Allison testified that she was engaged to Saunders that Campbell was very abusive to Mattie and also her and at length portrayed the trouble he had caused the family

Mrs Lakin of Eugene testified that while Mattie was visiting there Campbell came up and it was with trouble they got rid of him Adjourned.

THE EAST SIDE

Dannen Found Guilty—Mr Sanders Seriously Ill—Personal Notes—Brief Items

The case of C Dannen charged with assault and battery upon the person of one Paul Kothenbeutel came up before Justice Coleman at 8 A. M. yesterday and was tried by a jury consisting of E H Virgel C J Ward A K Colburn, R H Holmes, T J Byrnes and Cyrus Buckman The testimony elicited the fact that defendant had called the plaintiff vile names, drawn an old pocket knife on him leveled a lockless shotgun at him asked him to pay his arrears of rent and otherwise bulldozed and terrified him in a style altogether against the peace and dignity of the commonwealth In view of this desperate state of affairs and in consideration of the further fact that defendant was not a very handsome individual anyhow the jury after deliberating about twenty minutes brought in a verdict of guilty as charged The justice thereupon imposed a fine of $20 and costs which the prisoner paid The case of Mrs Dannen arrested on a similar charge was continued until 1 P M to-day Dannen was also arraigned on a charge of larceny in Justice Simpson s court at 1 o clock yesterday afternoon but after impaneling a jury and hearing the evidence the prosecution the case on motion of attorney [illegible] dismissed

ILLNESS OF MR SANDERS

County Clerk Sanders was taken suddenly and seriously ill at his office yesterday morning and had to be conveyed to his home in East Portland in a carriage accompanied by deputy W H Wood Dr S Smith the family physician was hastily summoned and took prompt and effective measures for the sufferer s relief Mr Sanders s illness is the result of a complication of heart troubles occasioned by an old wound received while in the Union army—the effect of which is severe pain in the region of the heart accompanied by congestive chills Mr Sanders was resting comfortably last evening and his physician expressed hopes of his immediate recovery When Mr S was seized with a similar attack last May it was uncharitably whispered about that his illness was merely a political dodge to enlist public sympathy and the hint was even cast out that he had been carried home intoxicated Now that the campaign is over however and his tenure of office expired Mr Sanders may be allowed perhaps to suffer without odium and receive the sympathies of his friends of whom he has many notwithstanding his defeat at the polls

NATIVE SONS OF OREGON

A well Merited Rebuke to Somebody for an Unpardonable Neglect

Pursuant to a call for a meeting of the Native Sons of Oregon many members of the society assembled in front of the council chamber last night awaiting the arrival of officers that they might be admitted Having become weary of waiting and fearing that the officers might have determined to hold a meeting elsewhere (no place was particularly specified in the call issued the morning before) men were delegated in squads of three and four to visit every building in the city where it was thought possible for the officers to have secreted themselves At a late hour all returned weary from walking, and emaciated from sorrow and disappointment At a late hour the meeting adjourned

Seriously brothers of the above named society there was and can be no possible excuse for so glaring an injustice to the members who are not residents of this city Its handling in a playful manner a very serious matter when residents of this city are inveigled into standing on the streets for hours in order to satisfy the pleasure of whom? Gentlemen don t all speak at once

If we wish to be men if love and wish to perpetuate the memory of the noble men and women who risked their fortunes yea even their lives—that we might live and prosper if we appreciate the high plane that our state occupies when compared with many others in the name of common sense a [illegible] organization that is worthy of men We have not yet organized [illegible] not a great distance in the future [illegible] disintegration There is only one way to avert the calamity to the society as I [illegible] and that is by issuing another call [illegible] to be held as soon after the [illegible] be desired on the part [illegible] parties so to warrant it might [illegible] a remain inert

To-morrow and Monday will be dull days for the wholesale lines and as telegraphed market reports will be meager because of a general suspension of business in San Francisco and the East until Tuesday our market cannot be expected to show much life Monday here will doubtless be recognized as a general holiday

The leading topic to be discussed this year at the coming meeting of the American bankers association which is to be held in Boston relates to the extradition question The United States has thirty one treaties with foreign countries but none of them prevent absconding bank defaulters from escaping punishment when they pass beyond the jurisdiction of this country The bankers have had a committee at work on the matter since the meeting of the association a year ago and it is understood that it will report its recommendations to the meeting soon to be held A measure of such importance prepared under the auspices of so competent a body as the American bankers association should receive the careful consideration of the state department to which it is to be submitted

DR. VANMONCISCAR,

THE WELL-KNOWN

SPECIALIST!

Proprietor and Consulting Physician of the Only Private Dispensary on the Pacific Coast, Now Permanently Located at 132, 134 Third St., Portland.

DR. VANMONCISCAR has made the treatment of Private Diseases of Men a special study and practice for many years. Over 4000 cases treated yearly Recent cases of private diseases cured in a short time Ulcers, Humors and Blotches of Face or Body cured without giving Mercury or other Poisons. Mercury is the curse of the human race. Your children will suffer from its effect. Avoid it as you would avoid any deadly drug, and use no more These diseases are being cured at this Dispensary without mercury.

DR. VANMONCISCAR is a graduate of a regular Medical College is well known over the United States and Canada by thousands of old and young men he has cured, and it is a well-known fact that for years he has confined himself to the study and treatment of Sexual and Chronic Diseases, thus giving him advantages few possess. Dr Vanmonciscar addresses himself particularly to those who have already tried various physicians and remedies from which they have received no benefits and who in fact, have done them more harm than good. Medicine, like all other sciences is progressive and every year shows proof of its advance By a combination of remedies of great curative power, Dr Vanmonciscar has so arranged his treatment that it will afford not only immediate relief but permanent cures.

Young Men who are suffering from the effects of youthful indiscretions showing some of the following symptoms. Nervous and Physical Debility Impotency (Incapacity) Lost Manhood Aversion to Society Defective Memory Exhausted Vitality, Confusion of Ideas, Dull System Loss of Brilliancy to the Eye Aversion to Society Despondency Pimples on the Face Loss of Energy and Frequency of Urinating You may be in the first stages but remember you are fast approaching the last. Do not let false pride and sham modesty deter you from attending to your ailment. Many a bright and naturally gifted young man endowed with genius has permitted his case to run on and on, until remorse racked his intellect and finally death claimed the victim, Remember that Procrastination is the thief of time. Lay aside your pride and consult one who thoroughly understands your ailment and who will know your case, and find permanent relief for an ailment that has made day a drudgery and night [illegible] Thousands upon thousands of men in good standing in the social world, of prominence in the world, are to-day suffering from the fruits of their doings, the seeds of which were sown during moments of thoughtlessness. Young man turn and gaze upon thy companion, or seek the mirror for proofs to substantiate this fact Oh could he control the hand of Fate or had he his life to live over again, then I could not appeal to you more sincerely Let your mind wander back to the much cherished counsels of a loving father and remember what you are to-day. Though you may for the present fill your station in society the time is as inevitable as fate when your brilliancy will fade like a flash denuded, a living [illegible] stranded wreck—desolate forgotten and lost, so embrace the opportunity and enjoy life and happiness longer If you claim to be a man act your part manly Do not console yourself with the thought that Nature will help itself for in doing so you not only fan the flame that wrecks Nature and [illegible] Large oaks from little acorns grow—Little [illegible] ruinate fatal diseases.

Middle-aged Men, married or single who are prematurely old as a result of excesses or youthful follies and who are troubled by too frequent evacuation of the bladder often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and sometimes small flakes [illegible] sediment in the urine and sometimes [illegible] color will then appear [illegible] failing [illegible] nervous debility and torpid appearance [illegible] is the second stage loss of vitality Remember [illegible] such cases a perfect cure of Seminal Weakness. In all such cases a perfect restoration is guaranteed and a perfect restoration and invigoration of the Urinary Organs. All letters answered so as to be sacredly confidential. [illegible]
